

Monthly Astrocast

March 2010

Key Events:

New Moon (25:10 Pisces): March 15, 2010

Full Moon (09:17 Libra): March 29, 2010

Retrograde Planets:

Mars: December 20, 2009 - March 10, 2010

Saturn: January 13, 2010 - May 30, 2010

If you enjoy these monthly horoscopes and find them helpful, please share them with a friend!

--Whobeda

Lunations and Long Term Aspects

The New Moon this month on the 15th occurs in Pisces, your 3rd House of thoughts, ideas, siblings, neighbors and short journeys. More than likely a surprise awaits in this area due to the fact that Mercury is conjunct Uranus with the pair only a little more than a degree away from the New Moon. This could be the bright idea you've been waiting for, involve your siblings or neighbors, or possibly be a situation that requires you to do a lot of running around or a day trip. Jupiter is in Pisces watching over the situation, and may choose to provide a boost in that direction or perhaps a philosophical spin, if it turns out to be an idea.

Your Sign Ruler, Saturn, is opposing the New Moon quartet from fellow Cardinal Sign, Libra. Saturn is currently retrograde which in Libra involves your 10th House of career, reputation, status and public image but will eventually get back into Virgo, your 9th House of higher learning, beliefs, expectations, cultural matters, legal issues, politics, religion, relocation and long-distance travel. This implies that there is something in these overlapping areas that needs to be restructured. Some old baggage is holding you back from achieving all you can and your buddy Saturn is helping flush that out. This process will continue until the end of May, so don't expect to make much if any progress before then. However, the implications are something related to your career, status and so forth is opposing that new idea or whatever it is the New Moon turned up.

Mars is in Leo, your 8th House of transformations, where he comes out of retrograde on March 10, a few days before this lunation. Mars retrograde gives you the chance to go back and resolve something that you probably should have acted on before, but didn't. Thus, he's raring to go, and he's connected with that New Moon quartet and Saturn in a favorable aspect pattern known as a Triangle of Potential. He is at the apex, implying that taking action will provide the needed solution to any conflicts between your career and such and those new ideas. Saturn won't be finished for a while, but taking action is still called for, possibly on the mental and emotional plane; maybe you need an entirely new approach or attitude. The 8th House also comprises sex, death and regeneration, and other people's money, so if the idea involves investors, then starting the search for them may be something to move forward on.

The Full Moon on March 29 is in Libra, your aforementioned 10th House of career, status and reputation. A Full Moon typically brings an ending or culmination, so something in this part of your life is likely to change or transition in some way. Remember that "status" includes many different things, most of which involve a title or label, and any of these things could be affected. Mars is still throwing some motivation toward the process as well, implying opportunities. Your household budget could present an obstacle, or possibly a female in your household could cause a stir of some sort, but this same person or situation also has access to some inspiration which may prove helpful.

Short Term Aspects

March 1: Mercury goes into Pisces and promptly contacts Mars, making it time to rethink a few things that will have significant impact on your future direction.

March 2: Your future direction is bound to involve a course change from where you are now, so be thinking about that, too, particularly as it relates to your status. Rethinking a few beliefs is in order also.

March 3: A female sibling or neighbor may delivery a big surprise today. Another possibility is a surprising thought that relates to money.

March 4: Pluto has been in Capricorn on and off for about a year now so you should be making some progress reinventing yourself. Look for a few more ideas and opportunities in that regard today.

March 7: Venus goes into Aries hopefully bringing her blessings to your home environment in some way. In fact, the chances are good that something that approaches the transformational level will come you way, or perhaps a minor windfall. (Yes, you income tax return is a windfall even though it is your money.) Look for something of note to occur that involves your neighbors and siblings, though you may simply have a busy day running errands.

March 9: Home and your career or status are going to present a conflict of some sort with the bottom line likely to be money.

March 10: Mars goes direct, opening the way for forward movement on resolving that old issue or unfinished business.

March 11: A minor crisis at home is likely that will relate to either something from your past or something previously hidden.

March 14: An excellent day for coming up with a brilliant idea. If not, news regarding something with your neighborhood or siblings is likely to come to light.

March 15: New Moon today in Pisces as described above.

March 17: More surprises or disruptions are on the agenda. More issues related to home of a transformational nature are likely or a situation that requires a loan. Mercury enters Aries, which will facilitate communications relative to home.

March 18: More home/career or home/status issues will arise today.

March 20: The Sun goes into Aries, bringing light and emphasis to your home environment. Memories or thoughts relative to your childhood home are possible.

March 21: Look for additional understanding with regard to the home/career issue and whatever else is going on, such as dealing with a loan.

March 22: Look for events that relate to your status to have important affect on you today. If you've been trying to deal with a loan issue, you may be able to move forward with it today.

March 25: There's a whole lot of action going on this month regard to your home environment, unearthing unresolved issues from the past, and their ultimate affect on you. Today features more of this.

March 29: Full Moon today as described above.

March 31: Be prepared to make a few adjustments or change course with that household issue. Don't count your chickens before they're hatched, however. Whatever news came your way today may evaporate. Venus goes into Taurus, your 5th House, which should bring positive things your way in April.

Copyright © 2010 Valkyrie Astrology
All Rights Reserved

It's birthday time! Find out what to expect this year with a Solar Return Report!