Lunations and Long-term Aspects

This month should be a little less dramatic than last unless you're still dealing with issues triggered by last month's eclipses, which tend to linger for a while. Most of you also had your solar return which could drag some of it out as well. If you were born around October 10 may have seen some action when Mercury stationed direct in the same degree as that long-term Saturn - Uranus quincunx which hung around for six weeks last summer, throwing a bunch of energy in 16 degrees. Those of you born around October 5 are most likely to see some effects this month as that Uranus - Pluto square once again is partite.

The Full Moon on November 6 is in Taurus, your 8th house of transformations, shared resources, debt, sex, death and rebirth, intense experiences and things you suppress. Watch for a culmination, ending or shift to a new phase of something in this part of your life. Meanwhile the Sun, your sign ruler, Venus, and your exalted ruler, Saturn, are all in nextdoor neighboring sign, Scorpio, your 2nd house of income, possessions, finances, needs, comforts and pleasures, suggesting some action there as well.

Jupiter has been transiting Leo, your 11th house of friends, goals, hopes, wishes, groups, organizations and networking for a while now where he may be inflating and expanding this part of your life. While many consider Jupiter lucky, and he certainly can be, he is generally neutral like Mercury and simply adds to what he touches. His square to Venus can sometimes bring over-confidence, which isn't necessarily good. He's also squaring Saturn, which could bring a few challenges to you finances. Uranus continues to move through Aries, your 7th house of relationships which tends to bring a few disruptions and upsets to that area. Some could bring about a change of course or adjustment, perhaps if someone close to you unexpectedly needs some financial assistance.

On November 11 Mars conjoins Pluto in Capricorn, your 4th house of home environment, cultural roots, memories, endings and new beginnings. These two bad boys could bring some sort of power struggle or conflict which could be a preamble to what's to come later when Uranus squares Pluto between November 27 - December 27. This is one that is most likely to show up for those of you born around October 5. Be particularly careful with regard to fire prevention, electrical issues and so forth at this time.

Neptune stations direct on November 16 in Pisces, your 6th house of work, health, service and pets. If your birthday is right around September 28 you may notice something at work that could be confusing, cloudy, deceptive or perhaps even a revelation of some sort. The station chart has a yod, a.k.a. "finger of God," which tends to have a fated nature, and will likewise be more likely to affect those of you born October 5. The implications deal with some emotional insights coupled with news that could relate to your finances in some way and point toward a new direction with a relationship. Jupiter is definitely inflating things in your money house at this time as well which are likely to tie back to work in some way. Eliminating things you no longer need is one way you might be able to deal with it.

The New Moon on November 22 is in Sagittarius, your 3rd house of thoughts, ideas, siblings, neighbors and local travel. This could bring something new in this part of your life but make sure you have all the facts because there could be some confusion involved there as well which may also relate to your work in some way. An opportunity to take action on a new project may follow some news or information coming your way which will also tend to shift your goals or groups activities to some degree. Remember a few days later Uranus and Pluto will square off in the same degree, which is the most powerful time and this will last at full strength until nearly the end of the year. Those of you born around October 5 or have a planet at 11 degrees should take note and not take any unnecessary risks during this time.
