Lunations and Long-term Aspects

The Full Moon this month on September 8 is in fellow Mutable Sign, Pisces, your 10th house of career, reputation, public image and status. This suggests an ending, culmination or shift to a new phase relative to something in this part of your life. If your birthday is right around June 7 this lunation is likely to be more noticeable. The Sun is in Virgo, your 4th house of home environment, memories, cultural roots, endings and new beginnings which brings emphasis to those matters. It's likely that you'll find yourself having to balance things in these two important areas. Neptune, Pisces' modern sign ruler, is also in Pisces and being opposed by Venus in Virgo, bringing additional energy to these polar signs.

These two combined as they are could bring a wealth of new ideas and/or projects your way as your imagination runs wild. You already have dozens of things in-work at any given time and this could bring a new onslaught. While you can multiplex better than most other signs you may still get overwhelmed with all that's going on. Neptune could make you a bit delusional with regard to how much you can handle so be sure to balance things out for sanity's sake. You can always write down your ideas for pursuit later when you finish off some of the things already on your plate. You'd rather be busy than bored but as a logical person you'd probably rather be sane versus experience a meltdown, also.

Jupiter is in your 3rd house of thoughts, ideas, siblings and neighbors so this is undoubtedly stirring things up as well. He's tied in with Uranus in your 11th house which includes friends, groups, organizations, networking, hopes, wishes and goals. Uranus brings flashes of brilliance and innovative ideas as well as disruptions, instability and surprises. This suggests that flood of ideas may have its source with friends or groups as well as relating to your long-term goals. It's thus advisable that you take a close, very logical look at your options. Jupiter, which tends to exaggerate, expand, inflate and accelerate what he touches, is quincunx Pluto as well, suggesting the need for some sort of transformation. Pluto rules such things and he's also in your 8th house which he rules zodiacally so that results in a double-whammy since the 8th includes transformations, death and rebirth, sex, shared resources, debt and things you suppress. What this suggests is handling everything coming at you is going to require a major change in how you see the world and you may have to let something go in order to keep everything under control.

Your sign ruler, Mercury, is in Libra, another Air Sign like yourself which constitutes your 5th house of ego definition, creativity, children, self-expression, romance, entertainment and speculation and he's also being pushed to the limits by Jupiter. Thus, creative ideas are flowing like the great Mississippi. There is some good news in all this, or rather I guess I should say more good news since a tsunami of ideas is great. Saturn, significator of organization, discipline, responsibility and boundaries, is helping out from your 6th house of work, health, service and pets. He will help you sort things out, prioritize, schedule and work your way through all this is a methodical way. it doesn't get much better than that!

Pluto stations direction on September 22/23 depending on which time zone you're in. If your birthday is right around June 2 this will probably bring something between a nudge and a kick in the butt to confront those adjustments which will be required to accomplish your goals. The New Moon on September 23/24 is in fellow Air Sign, Libra, your 5th house of creativity as defined earlier. This could well be the go signal for those new endeavors so make sure you're ready. If you haven't gotten organized before this you may be overwhelmed with the desire to jump into all those new projects before completing those old ones or perhaps properly prioritizing things so that your time is spent in the most productive way. Friends, goals and organizations are still feeding your ideas but Pluto is still reminding you that some changes are in order.

Mars is in your 7th house of close relationships which includes your significant other, close friends and relatives, business partners, business professionals, cliental and competitors. This is a time when you should watch your back. The warrior god is squaring Neptune in your 10th which could be stirring up some trouble as far as your career, reputation or public image are concerned which could indicate an open enemy or competitor confronting you or trying to deceive or confuse you in some way. This may or may not be intentional so it won't necessary be a full-frontal assault. It could even be resistance on the part of your spouse with regard to your ambitions. This could be where that transformation comes in and could involve your priorities, schedule and so forth in order to keep the people in your life happy while still pursuing those things that you love. Bon chance!
